as CUMAS Ents Officer

Proposer: Marcus Sim (myls3@cam.ac.uk)

Seconder: Lim Tian Xi (txl22@cam.ac.uk)

We all know how competitive Malaysians get about M-Night. As if stressing about Tripos isn't enough, we chew our nails and lose our hair over which uni has the best performance! As your Ents Officer, I can promise you I'll work tirelessly to meet my primary goal:

To make the CUMAS M-Night NOT just the biggest and baddest in Camb but ACROSS the UK!

Of course I can't promise I'll succeed, but here's why with me, I think we'll have a pretty good chance:

- I have experience with organizing events, being the
 - President of my high school debating club
 - Editor-in-chief of the school magazine
 - Writer and director of high school plays
 - And (here's one for the ladies) – I compose songs, too ;)

These roles taught me how to bring people together to make a finished product & about the importance of planning ahead.

- Passion, passion, passion! I love the freedom of taking an idea and experimenting with until it blossoms into a story.

Now to get down to business...My Policies for 2013/4!

- To quote any Asian parent...You can never start too early!! I'll propose possible plots for the 2014 M Night before the start of summer, and finish the script by October. I'll also draft a clear schedule for M Night.
- Inclusion of every member of the CUMAS family!! More promotion of ways to get involved – especially for next year's bright young freshers!

- To make the next M Night production a musical. If the Singaporeans could do it so can we! Just a suggestion as I understand the difficulties involved, but I think a musical will bring fresh dynamics to both the stage and society.

But wait, there's more!

There's more to being an Ents Officer than M-night. New events to organise include:

- Small concerts showcasing some of the best Malaysian talents out there! Jazz nights, open mic nights, recitals – we provide the stage and you provide the entertainment!
- Integrated events with CUMSA and ABACUS.

If you like the sound of my passion and ideas, give me the chance to use that passion to make those ideas reality. I look forward to working with and for you all. :):)
