Why Me?

They say that studying in a foreign land- with new subjects, new people, new culture- is a daunting experience. But I found university by far my happiest phase of life, thanks to CUMaS, being my strong support system. I would like to continue the family culture in CUMaS, strengthen the bonds between all Malaysian Cantabrigians and provide you with your dose of happiness not just in Week 5 but throughout the year. I have held various leadership roles, founded a social project CollegeLAH and have experiences organising large scale events and look forward to put my skills into use.

My Promise

Bonding sessions: Social bonds can have a positive impact on your health and happiness. I plan to organise monthly cookouts and formal swaps followed by bonding sessions where we gather in someone's room for friendly games, casual chit chats or movie nights!

CUMaS families: Organise CUMaS families and ensure that there's at least one family-related activity per term. To get things interesting, I suggest that we allow members to have the option of CUMaS marrying especially if the pull is too strong.

Fresher Camp: Organise an informative but fun-filled 2-day camp in September to provide the opportunity for freshers to get to know each other and form friendship bonds even before embarking overseas. This is followed by a banquet where all CUMaS member will be invited to socialise with the freshers.

Welfare Packs: Distribute week 5 welfare packs including motivational notes to shoo the week 5 blues away!
