Why run

I am very lucky to be able to study in Cambridge and meet all these cool people here. I hope that more Malaysians can have the same level of access to information as I have had, and that they would dare to dream big. I think we can do so much more to not only create a more level playing field for Malaysian students, but also help them be more competitive internationally.

Why me

I care about young people's access to education, and have been heavily involved in outreach projects such as providing tutorship and organising service-learning trips to Indonesia.

Hopes

Outreach and access

Besides sharing about Cambridge life and encouraging students to apply to Cambridge, I hope our events can also encourage them to think about their future more proactively, and with a more global mindset. I hope to organise outreach events, and maybe career workshops, to secondary schools so that students have more time to think about what they want to do with their life.

I hope to set up a platform where students can talk to Cambridge Malaysians more easily to ask for help for general academic issues or to help with their application (eg. advice on personal statements).

Information about applications

To ensure that the booklet containing information about applications is easily accessible by all Malaysian students, perhaps we can distribute physical copies to schools in different states as well as having online copies outside of the CUMaS website. It is important that Malaysian students do not see Cambridge as being an unrealistic goal.

Mock interviews

I will continue organising mock interviews for potential candidates to help with their preparation.
